ImplantoDays Course

Thursday, 27.11.2014

DAY
01

The clinical approach to implantology

The clinical approach of a live patient provides a means of bridging the gap between theory and the clinical reality of implantology as well as building up the participants surgical and prosthetic skills both during and post –op.

The course includes two modules:

- 1/2 Implant Placing Module - 27.11.2014, 08:30 to 18:30. Each Doctor will be placing 2 Dentium Superline implants on a ridge that does not require further augmentation.
- 2/2 Prosthetic restoration and rehabilitation Module - 19.03.2015

- What blood tests and medical consults should the patient undergo before the treatment?
- How do I read the CT scan?
- How do I choose the proper incision and flap design?
- I accidentally cut a superficial blood vessel. How do I manage this situation?
- How do I prepare the implant site?
- What is the drilling sequence?
- What type of suture do I use?
- Postoperative medication?
- When is the next appointment?

...are just a few of the questions that will be surely answered!
